European law on chemicals, REACH (1907/2006/EC)

The self-adhesive materials delivered by HERMA GmbH are products which do not have registration obligation with REACH. Nevertheless we appreciate REACH for its contribution and encouragement towards responsibility for safety in terms of health and environment.

According to the regulations of REACH, we, as a manufacturer of products, are to be regarded as a “downstream user” and as such are also not be subject to registration. Chemical substances contained in our products, which may possibly be subject to registration, have to be registered exclusively by our pre-suppliers.

Our self-adhesive laminates do not contain ‘substances of very high concern' (SVHC) at a concentration level which would result in the need to register them on “preparations/articles” level, annex XIV of the REACH regulation (EC 1907/2006) published in the updated Version by the European Chemicals Agency (ECHA).

We can assure you, however, that we currently use and will continue to use only raw materials, additives and finishing materials that are legally on the market, i.e. are properly registered in accordance with the REACH regulation.
